4 York farms open for tours

YORK — Four county farms will be opened to the public from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday as part of the 1983 Farm-City Week observance, sponsored by the York Area Chamber of Commerce.

Each of the farms in the Dallastown-Loganville area tour spotlights a different farm commodity produced there. Visitors may visit any or all of the four locations on the visitation route, at their leisure, during the three-hour open house.

Farms open for visitation are: — Raab's Fruit Farm, at Fruitlyn Drive and Oak Road, near Dallastown. This orchard operation produces a variety of fruit crops, with pick-you-own in season, and will offer hay rides through the orchards and free cider samples to visitors.

— Jack Myers Beef Farm, Dallastown R1, located at Route 214 and Ironstone Hill Road. Visitors may tour the facilities where the Myers family breeds and raises Charolais beef cattle. Representatives of the Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association will distribute beef literature.

— Country Spun sheep farm, Loganville, located off South Main Street below the Route 214 intersection. Greg and Martha Lau breed and raise registered Oxford sheep, and retail fleeces, yarns, and wool products. Highlights of this stop include tours of the sheep production barns, sheep shearing and wool spinning demonstrations.

— Bupplynn Farms Registered Holsteins, Ridgeview Road, Seven Valleys R2, located south of Loganville and east of the Susquehanna Trail. The 90-cow tie-stall barn and calf raising facilities will be open for tours. York County Dairy Princess Heidi Von Lange will greet visitors, and samples of UHT milk, recently introduced to the area, will be offered. — J.B.
