Pa. Champion shawl breaks national record

FARM SHOW — National records were broken Wednesday night as Rich Brandt Real Estate of Reading, BERKS COUNTY, purchased the 100 percent wool grand champion shawl at the 1984 Pennsylvania Farm Show.

The Niddy Noddies team from Lancaster County was named the grand champion of the 1984 Pennsylvania Sheep to Shawl Contest with their Finnish lace weave shawl done in sky blue, pale violet, light green and cream colors. Rich Brandt Real Estate then shattered the national record price for a winning shawl by paying $420 after spirited bidding from a crowd of more than 1,000. This is the fifth year in a row for Rich Brandt to buy the winning shawl.

Team members included Carol Barry of Lancaster; Tina Mickley of Denver; Barbara Lynch of Pequea; Valarie Bechtol of Washington Boro; and David Eckman of Pequea all of Lancaster County. The team received $150 in premiums, a travelling trophy sponsored by the Pennsylvania Sheep and Wool Growers Association and a large plaque.

Another national record was set when Walter Dunlap and Sons of Lancaster Stockyards purchased the reserve champion shawl for $415. The black charcoal and suede shawl with silver wool interwoven in the traditional lace weave was made by the Elk Creek Guild of Chester County.

Team members included Joan DeMichel of New London, Chester County; Lucy Rosen of Oxford, Chester County; Sandy Fulton of Oxford, and Randy Irwin of New Freedom, York County. The team received $125 in premiums and a large wall plaque. The Elk Creek Guild was selected by individual vote of participants for the 1984 Team's Choice Award.

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture E. Chester Heim was the successful bidder of the third place shawl, a pink and rose variegated twill weave made by the Butler County Pedalers. Heim purchased the shawl at $150.
