Distributor named

EASTON, Md. — Distributors Processing, Inc. of Porterville, Cal. has announced the appointment of Papillon Agricultural Products, Inc., of Easton, Md. as distributor for Micro-Aid sarsaponin.

Papillon will be responsible for coordinating research and development projects as well as marketing Micro-Aid in 13 Northeastern states and Canada.

An additional benefit of Micro-Aid is that it inhibits the breakdown of uric acid in manure, reducing significantly the production of atmospheric ammonia when animals are in total confinement.

COLDWATER, Oh. — New Idea has announced plans to market a new line of single and double frame planters.

The double frame model consists of two 7-inch steel box beam tool bars that provide the weight and strength required to carry large volume fertilizer hoppers or tanks, conservation tillage tools and extra row units...all on the same machine and all for use at the same time. Available in 4, 6, and 8 row models, these planters feature dual vertically mounted transmissions that provide convenient control of population settings. The transmission will not interfere with the attachment of row spacings as narrow as 15 inches. Optional pusher row units provide row spacings as narrow as 7½ inches.

The new single frame models are available as fully mounted (3-point hitch) models and trailing planters in 4-row narrow, 4-row wide, 6-row narrow, 6-row wide and 8-row narrow sizes.

All of the new models feature Kinze plateless planting units for extremely accurate seed placement.

Double frame planter from New Idea features durable construction with two 7-inch steel box beam tool bars.
