Corn conference slated

INDIANAPOLIS, In. — The National Corn Growers Association (NCGA) will sponsor this nation's first International Corn Conference here in July as a major part of its 26th annual convention, according to NCGA President John Stevenson, of Ohio. 'During the 1970's we set a new corn export volume record nearly every year," Stevenson noted, "but so far in the 1980's we find those markets harder to maintain or to expand."

For that reason NCGA decided this year members needed to hear directly from leaders representing countries who are our best customers as well as those competing with us for those important foreign sales.

David Lacroze, former president of the Argentine Grain Board, has accepted an invitation to participate. Other countries to be represented include Japan, Mexico, the USSR and the European Community President Ronald Reagan has been invited to keynote the Conference on July 31.

Tackle debut delayed

MONMOUTH JUNCTION, N.J. — Rhone-Poulenc Inc. has announced that Tackle herbicide, its new postemergence contact herbicide for soybeans, will not be available to farmers this season.

Rhone-Poulenc had expected Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) registration for the herbicide this spring. But with registration still pending, company officials have decided to cancel plans for 1984 product distribution now.
