STRAWBERRY CHIFFON SQUARES

½ cup butter or margarine
 1½ cup finely crushed vanilla wafers (about 45)
 1 3-ounce package strawberry jello
 ¾ cup boiling water
 1 14-ounce can sweetened condensed (not evaporated) milk
 1 10-ounce package frozen sliced strawberries in syrup, fresh ones can be substituted
 4 cups miniature marshmallows
 1 cup (½ pint) whipped whipping cream

In small saucepan melt butter. Stir into crumbs. Pat firmly on bottom of 11 x 7-inch pan. Chill. In large bowl dissolve jello with water; stir in condensed milk and undrained berries. Fold in marshmallows and whipped cream. Chill until set - about 2 hours. Variations - lime jello and pineapples, crushed; orange jello and orange sections; cherry jello and sweet cherries.

sewing contest in the United States. In Pennsylvania alone, nearly 1400 entries were submitted at the local level. Local grange hold the first round of eliminations, followed by county, then state competition. Winners at the state level will have the opportunity to compete in the National Grange finals held at the New York headquarters of the Simplicity Pattern Company, a contest sponsor, in June.

Ruth Marshall of Ellwood City, Lawrence County, won first place in state competition in Class C, a division for garments sewn for children, and the overall contest Best of Show. She entered a floral-printed, ruffled dress made for her daughter. She also won two $50 bonds sponsored by B. Blumenthal and Co., Inc. and C.M. Offray and Son, Inc. for her innovative use of their sewing notions. Marshall is a member of Pleasant Hill Grange 1505 where she is pianist, and women's activities chairwoman. She will receive a cash award and an electric skillet in addition to the bonds and will compete for more than $100 in cash and prizes at the national finals.

First place in the adult garment category was awarded to Ida Preto of Cabot, Butler County, for a double-breasted, linen suit featuring inset pockets and a slitted skirt. Preto belongs to Winfield Grange 1105.

Anita Rae Mahoney of Uniontown, Fayette County placed first in the youth category with a skirt, blouse and jacket combination. The 16-year-old was sponsored by Menallen Grange 1091.

In a category for children ages 12 and under, Gretchen Gross of Emlenton, Venango County, won first place. The 12-year-old daughter of Glenn and Barbara Gross is a member and master (president) of Scrubgrass Junior Grange.

Second and third places in each of the four categories were awarded as follows:

CLASS A (Adult):

Second - Mrs. David Lamb, Ellwood City, Lawrence County;
 Third - Vicki Kopchik, Hawk Run, Clearfield County;

CLASS B (Youth):

Second - Ellen Huber, West Chester, Chester County;
