

Butler adds scale line

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Butler Manufacturing Company recently announced the addition of Electronic Platform Scales to their product line. The scales offer certifiable accuracy up to 100,000 pounds and feature a low-profile construction which can be mounted on either a concrete pad or piers without excavating a pit. The basic Butler Electronic Platform Scale is 10x30'. But, by linking two together or separating them with a 20-foot pad, configurations of 10x60' or 10x80' are possible. The platform itself is all steel and hot-dip galvanized. It is equipped with open grates for dumping grain through to a conveyor.

The electronic design of the scale provides a "scoreboard" indicator which is easy to read from a truck cab or nearby location. It also allows the scale to interface with printers, computers or other devices for simplifying record-keeping or for improved management.

According to Butler Manufacturing Co. of Kansas City, Mo., "the scales have been introduced in response to the growing importance of on-farm weighing of livestock and grain."
