

PHBA elects Paul Mills president

KENNET SQUARE — Paul D. Mills was elected president of the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders' Association by the Association's Board of Directors at their June 28 meeting. He succeeds Richard D. Abbott.

Other officers elected were Gary D. Reihart, vice president and H. Morton Smith, secretary. Bernard J. Daney was reelected treasurer.

Mills had served as the PHBA's vice president since 1982 and as secretary for four years prior to that. His involvement with thoroughbreds traces to the mid-sixties, when he raced a small stable.

In 1970 he began the development of Willow Tree Farm in Hellam, just east of York. It wasn't long before the 100 acre site was transformed into a picturesque, working horse farm.

Mills' full-time commitment to thoroughbreds since then has reaped its rewards. He now describes his operation as a "cradle to grave affair, breeding, raising, training and racing."

The success of his commitment is easily measured by checking the list of leading award recipients from the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund. From 1977 through 1982, Mills led that list, and last year he was second with $57,378.

He has been a member of the PHBA's Board of Directors since 1976, and a member of the Breeding Fund Advisory Committee for the past six years.

Reihart left his real estate business three years ago to fully pursue his career with thoroughbreds. He operates Flying R Stables in Dillsburg where he stands Shining Sword, and is a licensed trainer.

Smith is a retired investment banker from Emmaus, who has a lifelong involvement with horses. He is currently active as an owner and a breeder.

Daney is vice president of Brandywine College and a partner in the Wilmington accounting firm of Daney, Truitt & Co.

At the business session of the PHBA's annual meeting on May 17, Abbott, Dona M. Albright, Daney, Marshall W. Jenney, Thomas H. Ligenfelter, Domenic Tesauro, and Richard K. Winn were elected to three-year terms on the Board.

Baum's gets $3,500 penalty

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The owners of Baum's Bologna, Inc., a Pennsylvania meat packing firm that purchased livestock throughout Pennsylvania and Virginia, have agreed to a $3,500 civil penalty and a cease and desist order from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

B.H. (Bill) Jones, head of USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration, said Clair G. and Glenn S. Baum, of Elizabethtown, agreed to the penalties to settle charges that they operated while insolvent, wrote bad checks, and failed to pay promptly for livestock.

They were also ordered to cease and desist from soliciting credit agreements by misleading sellers to believe that they do not waive their rights to protection under the P&S trust provision by extending credit.

In agreeing to penalties, the Baums neither admitted nor denied the charges which were filed in July 1983 by USDA in an administrative complaint under authority of the Packers and Stockyards Act.

The firm, which is now out of business, was placed under a cease and desist order, similar to a permanent injunction, to insure future compliance with the P&S Act.

The P&S Act is an antitrust, fair trade practice and payment protection law. It is designed to maintain integrity in the marketing of livestock, poultry and meat, and in the marketplace.

Kansas City's LMIA names president

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — William B. Deas has been named president of Livestock Marketing Insurance Agency, Inc., (LMIA), one of the nation's largest agencies specializing in the livestock industry.

LMIA is affiliated with Livestock Marketing Association (LMA), the national trade association of the livestock marketing sector. LMIA is a full-line agency, offering a broad range of coverages for livestock marketers, producers, feeders, and transporters.

A 1970 graduate of the University of Florida, Deas graduated in 1973 from that university's school of law. He recently was named 1985 president of the International Agribusiness Club of Kansas City.

Founded in 1960 to handle the insurance needs of the marketing sector, LMIA today also serves the entire livestock industry with a variety of specialized coverages.

The satisfaction that comes from doing a good job of farming

Liming is one of the most important factors in keeping your soil in the highest productive range. By raising the pH from a level below 6.0 to 6.5 or higher you can expect to harvest as much as 5 more bushels of corn per acre with similar increases for all other forage and cash crops.
