

Indiana Co. Dairy Princess is Elizabeth Ann Mowry

INDIANA — Elizabeth Ann Mowry was crowned 1984 Indiana County Dairy Princess at Sprowls Hall on the Indiana University of Pennsylvania Campus in Indiana on July 7. 1981 Dairy Princess Lori Kirkland presented Elizabeth with her crown and a bouquet of red roses. Elizabeth was also named Miss Congeniality.

First runner-up was Beth Nesbit, daughter of Jerry and Karen Nesbit, Marchand. Lori also presented Beth her banner and bouquet of pink carnations.

Elizabeth is the 17-year-old daughter of Clarence and Grace Mowry Jr. of R1 Smicksburg. Elizabeth will be a senior at Dayton and Lenape Vo-Tech in Ford City. Elizabeth's activities include the school chorus, chess club, Vica (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America), and the Mahoning Grange 1732. Elizabeth's family milks a herd of Holsteins.

Beth is a 20-year-old sophomore attending the Indiana University of Pennsylvania majoring in rehabilitation. Beth's activities include being a staff correspondent for Lancaster Farming, a former 4-H member of the Northern Indiana County 4-H Dairy Club and an active member of the Marchand United Methodist Church. Beth owns 30 head of Registered Holsteins from her family's herd of 200.

The evening began with each of the five contestants presenting a two-minute skit they had prepared to promote milk. Elizabeth explained to the audience, dressed as a cow, the importance of milk and its by-products from the cow's point of view.

1981 Dairy Princess Lori Kirkland gave her farewell speech and thanked her family and the dairy promotion committee for their support during her reign. A presentation from each of the dairy princesses who have served the county since it began the dairy princess program was a highlight of the evenings entertainment. A slide presentation, narrated by Carol Schurman, county extension agent, of past dairy princess pagents also accompanied the introduction of the past princesses.

Musical entertainment for the evening was provided by Kenneth Black. Following the pagent a reception was held for those in attendance.

During Elizabeth's reign, she will travel throughout the county promoting milk and dairy products.

In September she will travel to Harrisburg to compete for the Pennsylvania Dairy Princess crown.-BN
