field to the economy of our state. There will be exhibits of all types of livestock, including dairy cows, dairy goats, and beef cattle. On the machinery side, there will be farm machinery displays by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and a booth by the Egg Producers Council. Many food booths will center around such Pennsylvania products as corn on the cob, ice cream, various fruits and many other goods produced by Pennsylvania farmers.

New events for this year include a frisbee dog contest and a celebrity goat milking contest. The frisbee dog contest is open to the public and will include a demonstration and a clinic. The goat milking contest will feature local celebrities including Lansdale Mayor Mike DiNunzio; County Commissioner Allan Myers; State Representatives Ray Bunt, Robert Godshall, and George Saurman; Bob Beru of the local band Beru Revue; and a disc jockey from 94 WYSP in Philadelphia.

Also featured at the fair are numerous exhibits of 4-H projects which will be on display inside the 4-H building. The projects range from clothing, foods and crafts, woodworking, vegetables, photography, rockets, nature, and wildlife, to animal science. The public is also invited to enter finished products in open classes in clothing, crafts, foods and vegetables.

For the benefit of all who attend the fair, the 4-H Animal Science Club will sponsor an information booth. Here one may find answers to almost any type of question about animals. The information will consist of other literature, referral and is free of charge. The booth will be open during most of the Fair.

For more information, call the 4-H office at 277-0574.
