The Meadow Mist herd represents 23 years of continuous breeding and selection for the economically important performance traits. The Meadow Mist herd is a model performance breeding program featuring the most complete and comprehensive record keeping program to be found anywhere in the breed. Bulls produced at Meadow Mist Farms have ranked at the very top of the test stations in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Maryland through the past five years and the Meadow Mist prefix has truly become a symbol of Angus performance excellence!

Rapid generation turnover has been the policy at Meadow Mist Farms and more than 50 percent of the females selling are 3 years of age and younger. The entire herd descends from 20 heifers purchased 23 years ago, no outside females have been added since this original purchase. Come to Meadow Mist expecting to see the very best in Angus breeding and management — you will not be disappointed!

The Meadow Mist herd has been certified free of brucellosis and accredited tuberculosis free ever since it was established. Calfhood vaccination against brucellosis is routinely practiced as well as whole herd vaccination against the common infectious diseases in the Northeast. In addition, the entire herd has been tested for bovine leukemia virus for the last several years and has been negative on every test.
