

NORRISTOWN — 4-H members in Montgomery County are joining the nearly five million young people nationwide in observing National 4-H Week, Oct. 7-13. Using the theme, "4-H Building on Experience," members are challenged to use their own, as well as others' experiences and experience in acquiring practical skills. They also are learning good health habits, developing respect for themselves and others, exploring career and leisure time opportunities, sharing responsibilities for preserving the environment, and developing leadership and citizenship skills.

Extension agent Helaine Brown said that during the special week members of America's largest out-of-school youth education organization will celebrate with activities aimed at promoting individual growth and accomplishment, creativity, social responsibility, and family involvement.

In Montgomery County, there are almost 300 volunteer leaders working with 2,800 4-H members. These volunteers are among the more than 620,000 leaders nationwide, who each contributed about 220 hours of service last year.

4-H conducted by the cooperative extension service at Penn State University, is available to boys and girls 9 to 19 wherever they live. Programs are conducted in the 3,150 counties of the United States, plus the district of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam. Since its inception, about 45 million Americans have been involved in 4-H. In addition, some 82 countries around the world have youth programs similar to 4-H.

4-H thrives because of a unique partnership with the public and private sectors who contribute at the local, state, and national level. Not only does this partnership include financial support, but many business men and women volunteer their time and talents to young people, as well, Brown said.

For more information on how you might be involved in 4-H, as a member or volunteer leader, contact Helaine Brown, 400 Markley Street, Norristown, PA 19401 or call 277-0574.
