

Margaret Herr claims junior market lamb championship

HARRISBURG — The noise level in the Farm Show's small arena increased Wednesday as a large crowd gathered to see who would show the winning junior market lamb this year.

At show's end, it was Lancaster County's Margaret Herr who walked away with the coveted banner. Her heavyweight champion stepped ahead of the other class champions to complete a full day of wins for Margaret. Earlier in the day, Margaret had claimed both champion and reserve champion honors in the Dorset division of the junior breeding show.

Julie Kuzenchak of Centre County received the reserve championship with her reserve champion heavyweight.

Donna MacCauley of Chester County claimed the lightweight champion, and Chad Lebo of Dauphin County showed the lightweight reserve champion.

The middleweight championship went to Tricia Musser of Lancaster County and Barbara Falvey of Bedford claimed the reserve champion middleweight.

Molly Wise, another Lancaster Countian, earned the light heavyweight championship and reserve light heavyweight championship went to Leah Byler of Cumberland County

Margaret Herr of Lancaster County won the coveted market lamb grand championship with her heavyweight entry.

Luzerne Co. Extension offers

learn-at-home finance program

WILKES-BARRE — Managing money seems like an impossible task for many people. Monthly paychecks often don't cover the rising cost of food, clothing, utilities and medical care. The future looks dim for young families hoping to buy a new home or save for a child's college education.

How can families establish a firm plan for managing their money, one that will help to balance the checkbook at the end of the month and adapt to the family's changing needs?

The Luzerne County Cooperative Extension Service can help through "Families Managing

Money in the 80's," a series of five learn-at-home packets that includes a system for organizing important papers; your family's net worth, financial priorities; a plan for saving and spending; and credit management.

If you complete the five-lesson program you get a copy of "Getting Organized," a 48-page book of information and forms to help you keep tabs on family finances.

To receive the free learn-at-home materials, call the Luzerne County Extension Office at 825-1701 or 459-0736, ext. 701, or write the Luzerne County Extension Office at 5 Water St., Courthouse Annex, Wilkes-Barre, PA 18711.
