

Western Berks Dairy Club

Members of the Western Berks Dairy Club held their April meeting at the home of Jennifer and Michael Hix.

Camp Shehaqua was recommended from members who have attended in past years.

The group decided to keep decorations for the fairs the same as last year. Club president Tammy Balthaser reviewed completing a project book. Filling out all sections is important to qualifying for a blue ribbon.

NJ FFA to Hold Annual Convention

May 15 to 17

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. — The New Jersey FFA is celebrating its 57th Annual State Convention May 15 to 17 at Loree Auditorium, Cook College, Rutgers University, New Brunswick. During the three-day convention vocational agricultural/FFA members gather to be honored with awards for achievements through the year as well as to conduct business of the Association.

This year the National FFA president, Rick Malir, will be present to encourage members and guests to achieve their goals. Honorable Raymond J. Zane, State Senator, will be this year's convention speaker.

Two official delegates from each of the 41 State FFA Chapters will represent their membership to vote on business at the convention. Key issues for the 1986 convention will be making constitutional changes, setting events and dates for activities, setting of dues and contest fees, and electing 1986-87 State Officers.

Recognition to chapters will include safety awards, community service (Building Our American Communities), superior chapter and a most improved chapter awards. This year an award will be presented to the FFA Chapter raising the most money for the refurbishment of the Statue of Liberty.

The highest state FFA degree, Garden State FFA Degree, will be presented to 25 FFA members who have qualified because of their leadership and occupational achievement. Over $5,000 in awards will be distributed to FFA members through the New Jersey FFA Foundation, National Foundation and FFA Association. Money is donated to the foundations by individuals and business and industry who support youth in agriculture.

In addition to student recognition, several adults and groups will be cited for their service to the FFA. Four adults will receive the Honorary Garden State FFA Degree and two groups will be presented a Distinguished Service Citation.

Contests in tractor driving, public speaking, parliamentary procedure and demonstrations will also be conducted at the convention. The State Alumni Association and H.O. Sampson Collegiate FFA Chapter (Cook College) will be sponsoring two social events at the conventions. On Thursday, Collegiate FFA members will be holding the first annual FFA Lip Sync Contest for FFA members. Friday night's activities include a dance sponsored by the State Alumni Association.
