

FAIR Days

All across the Keystone State young exhibitors are grooming, training and finishing their livestock for fair season that's upon us once again. For Pennsylvania's farm community fair season is synonymous with fun season, as farmers renew acquaintances and catch up on what's been going on in the next township, county or state.

To keep you from missing out on any of the action, here's a chronological listing of fairs beginning with the Lamb and Wool festival next month and culminating, of course, with the Farm Show in January. If you'd like more information, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Fair Directory is now available. In addition to the dates and locations of 126 fairs, the directory includes names and phone numbers of fair coordinators. To obtain your free copy, send a postcard to the Pennsylvania Fair Fund, Pa. Dept. of Agriculture, 2301 N. Cameron St., Harrisburg, PA 17110-9408.
