

Ailean Detter

spent a year with the Detter family. She returned for Susan's wedding a few years ago, and plans to visit again this September, taking time off from her job as an administrator in a robot factory.

Quiet satisfaction is obvious as Ailean pauses a moment to help granddaughter Holly Gross with blending paint shades, and reflects on the unexpected turn her life took 12 years ago when she stopped to admire a piece of decorative toleware.

And she is quick to credit her family's support and her husband's enthusiasm in developing a hobby into a professional gallery and teaching studio.

"So much of this is Lorne's doing," she softly says. "He backs me one hundred percent. A lot of men won't do that."

While country artist Ailean Detter favors landscapes in oils, her talent spans a range of techniques and mediums. In her gallery are found items as diverse as painted T-shirts, decorated feed scoops, duck decoys and strawberry baskets, she even has a portrait of a poodle—done on velvet with white chalk.

Morgan Receives DeKalb Award

ELVERSON — Beth Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morgan of RD 1 Birdsboro, was recently named the 1986 DeKalb Agricultural Accomplishment Award winner at Twin Valley High School. The award, sponsored nationwide by DeKalb Corporation and DeKalb-Pfizer Genetics, is presented to the senior agricultural student attaining the highest degree of proficiency in scholarship, leadership, and supervised agricultural project program.

Beth is a 1986 graduate of Twin Valley High School. She served as president of the Twin Valley FFA and vice-president of the Berks County FFA. She was a member of the lacrosse and field hockey teams and participated in the school play.

Beth was a presiding member of the FFA parliamentary procedure team, participated in public speaking, and was involved in many judging contests, including dairy, livestock, forestry and wildlife. Beth recently placed third in the Pennsylvania FFA forestry contest. She will be a member of the state FFA team in the national forestry contest. Her projects included a home garden and wildlife conservation. Beth will attend the University of Delaware in September to major in biological science.

As the 1986 winner Beth's name will be inscribed on a plaque displayed in the vocational agriculture classroom. She was also presented with a pin and certificate at the recent Honors and Awards Banquet at Twin Valley. The DeKalb award is considered the highest honor a vocation student may receive on the local level. It is presented in 4,000 schools each year.
