BEDFORD — A successful junior livestock sale on Aug. 9 rounded out an eventful week at the Bedford County Fair. Despite the current economic trends, prices were at a record high.

Market steers, hogs and lambs were offered for bids by auctioneer Clayton Winebark of Indiana. Show champions and winners had been named earlier in the week.

Cathy Furlong, a 4-H member from Clearville, exhibited the grand champion steer. Her champion, a well-finished Angus, brought $7,072, when Hoss' Steak House of Bedford offered the top bid of $5.75 per pound for the 1,230-pound entry. The young exhibitor plans to use the money to buy more steers and to attend college.

An FFA member from Alum Bank, Dennis Hillegass, captured reserve champion honors with a 1,184-pound crossbred steer. The buyer, Stanley Claycomb of Cove Soft Ice Cream, paid $3.70 per pound, for a total of $4,381.

The sale's 58 steers averaged 87 cents per pound, up from last year's 75-cent average.

In the market hog competition, Ginger Kegg of Bedford once again captured grand champion honors with her homebred Spotted gilt. This is the third consecutive year that Ginger has taken this title. High bidders A.J. Beamer Ford Company set a sale record by paying $7.75 per pound for the 236-pound grand champion, bringing the total tab to $1,829. Beamer Ford donated the hog, along with a steer and lamb, to the Alum Bank Volunteer Fire Company.

Brad Conley of New Enterprise showed the reserve champion and sold the 244-pound hog to American Outfitters of Bedford for $1,159.

Richie Emerick, Schellsburg, repeated last year's performance by showing the grand champion carcass. Henry Miller bought the 142-pound entry for $3.50 per pound.

The sale's 47 market hogs and three carcasses averaged $1.28 per pound, which was 10 cents higher than last year's average.

Beamer Ford set still another sale record by paying $9.05 per pound for the grand champion market lamb exhibited by Scott Myers of Bedford.

The reserve champion lamb was shown by Gwendolyn Grey of Schellsburg, who sold the lamb to Hartley National Bank. Grey also had the reserve champion carcass that sold to Seipts Locker Plant for $3.30 a pound.

Spike Funston entered the grand champion lamb carcass. The 57-pound entry sold to G.M. Eicher Packing Company for $3.80 per pound. The lamb sale averaged $1.88 per pound including champions, also up from last year's average.

John Beamer (left) of A.J. Beamer Ford, paid $7.75 per pound for Ginger Kegg's grand champion hog, then donated the top porker to Alum Bank Fire Company, represented by Gerald Lippert.

Cathy Furlong (at halter) sold her champion steer to Hoss's Steak House represented here by (left) Len Hummel, Bill Campbell and Ferd Mazzel. Final bid was $5.75 per pound.

Gwendolyn Grey sold her reserve champion lamb to Hartley National Bank.

Miller Charolais Takes Reserve at Ohio State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Thirty-two entries made up the 1986 Charolais Show at the Ohio State Fair held Aug. 8 in Columbus. Dr. Tom Turner of Columbus, Ohio, evaluated the cattle led out by 19 exhibitors.

Adams Charolais Farms of Springfield, Ohio, teamed up with D and L Cattle Co. to present the grand champion bull, AS High Sierra 3425. This May 1985, son of High-Rise was also the intermediate champion. Following into the reserve slot of the bull show was GF Buddy B 522 ET, a September yearling sired by RCC

Royal Jaguar. He's owned by Grassy Forks Farm of Catawba, N.C., and was the day's calf champion.

Adams Charolais was back in the female show to take the top honor with ACF Apple Drop 4325 PD, the senior champion. Apple Drop is a March 1985 daughter of High-Rise.

A Pennsylvania entry, Perfection's Linda Sue, moved in and claimed the reserve senior and reserve grand honors. This April 1985 female, sired by Paramount Trademark 2137, was exhibited by Miller Charolais Co. and Paul Miller of Spring Grove, Pa.

Royal Wins In Missouri

Royal Charolais Co. of Greensburg walked away with grand champion female honors at the Ozark Empire Fair, Springfield, Mo., on July 30. RCC Royal Heiress, a May yearling sired by Constructor, was also the event's intermediate champion.
