Beekeepers Encouraged

To 'Buy Back' Loans

Beekeepers in Berks County who obtain 1986 crop honey loans stored in approved metal containers in the ASCS price support program will be able to repay their loans at a level lower than the original loan rate.

Donald E. Lutz, Chairman of the Berks County ASC Committee says the lower honey loan repayment rates will be set to induce beekeepers to buy back their loans, and that the lower repayment levels will help minimize loan forfeitures.

Based primarily on the market price of honey, the buy-back loan level will be announced weekly for each color and class of honey. When beekeepers repay their loans at the announced buy-back level, Lutz says the interest on the loan will be waived.

Beekeepers who buy back their honey under the program may not repledge the same honey as collateral for another loan.
