INTERCOURSE - "Dilemmas of the Mennonite Farmer" is the subject of a Saturday Seminar sponsored by The People's Place to be held Jan. 17, 1967 from 7:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. Wilmer Heisey of Elizabethtown will address the many changes occurring in farm life and their effects on Mennonite families.

The seminar will take place at the Millstream Motor Lodge, Smoketown, and is sponsored by The People's Place Associates for anyone who is interested. Heisey will lead three sessions:

• "Farming and Lifestyle"– Is it harder to be a farmer than it used to be? Have our expectations about work, vacation, our children's involvement, and retirement U.S., has been actively involved in changed? How has our understanding of stewardship changed?

· "Farming and Finances"-What can we learn from the financial causes and problems related to the current farm crises in the East and Midwest? Is there an end in sight? How can we care • "Farming and Identity"- Is family farming a viable option? Should families try to keep the farm in the family? How does farming shape one's faith? What about food and Third World concerns?

Heisey, as executive secretary of helping Mennonite farm families cope with their financial struggles. A member of the Farm Task Force under MCC, he initiated the Inter-Mennonite Farm Newsletter and served as its first editor. He also helped establish a hotline for farmers in crisis.

Persons interested in attending the seminar should write The People's Place, Main Street, Intercourse, or call for reservations: 768-7171 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Tax Meeting

QUAKERTOWN - Tax preparers, farmers, homemakers, and other interested individuals can secure information about federal income tax at the 1987 income tax area meeting to be conducted in Quakertown on Wednesday, Jan. 7. According to Richard A. Bailey, county extension director, discussion of recent changes in tax law should make this year's meeting very informative.

A brochure/registration form is included. Questions about the meetings may be directed to Richard A. Bailey, county extension director, who can be reached by telephone at 215-345-3283 commercial exhibits available.

James Sheeder, Pennsylvania Sheep and Wool Growers Association president and Dr. Clair Engle, an advisor to the Sheep and Wool Growers, and Sheep Extension Specialist at Penn State University acted as cochairman for this first annual event.

New Zealand Tour

On Oct. 31 to Nov. 20, 1987 the Pennsylvania Sheep and Wool Growers Association is sponsoring a tour of the sheep country in Australia and New Zealand. Through the joint efforts of MTS Travel and the Pennsylvania Sheep and Wool Growers Association, the dedicated sheep enthusiast will be able to go 'home' to sheep country. A variety of learning and sightseeing experiences includes stops at government livestock/forage research stations, a lake cruise to the famous Glow Worm caves in New Zealand, and optional overnight host farm visits. With the assistance of Clair and Marilyn Engle, those who go will get a "futuristic look at the sheep industry."

The symposium was sponsored by the Pennsylvania Sheep and Wool Growers Association, the Penn State Cooperative Extension Service, the American Sheep Producers Council and Allied Industries.

independent shippers in Lehigh county to 665 independent shippers in Lancaster couty. We have a lot of independent dairies in Pennsylvania.

But we have gone to the milk marketing board and they report that the mechanism is in place to deal with the overorder pricing if it comes into play. The dealers will need to have a hearing and the marketing board will recognize it as a cost. So it can be passed on to the consumer.

Ely also introduced Edward D. Anna as the newly appointed executive director of RCMA. Anna succeeds Arthur D. Little who had previously notified the board that is was necessary for him to return to full-time work at Dairylee Cooperative, Inc., where he has been a membership department executive for several years. Anna will assume his new position on January 1. Shortly thereafter, the office of RCMA will be moved from its present location in Syracuse to Batavia.

Anna brings a strong dairy Little, Syracuse.

background to the RCMA job. He has been involved with milk production at the farm level. served as assistant manager of Upstate Milk Cooperatives, Inc., and more recently was executive vice president of Cuba Cheese, Cuba, New York. Anna also taught dairy science at Canton Ag and Tech College for seven years.

"RCMA is the only way dairy farmers can directly improve the price they get for their milk," Anna told the group. "I am convinced it can succeed and I am dedicated to make it happen," he said. Proof of that commitment is evident because I left a rather permanent job to accept this position."

Members of the steering committee that were named at the meeting include the following: Carl Brown, PFA, Pine Grove; Robert Pardoe, Grange, Milton; Donald B. Duncan, Grange, Robesonia; Arden Tewksbury, PFU, Meshoppen; Karl Kroeck, PFA, Knoxville; Harold Wolfe, PFU, Centre Hall; and Arthur D.

dependent handler. Once that handler agrees to the over-order price your milk will go back into his plant.

Q: HOW WILL THE NON-COOP MEMBERS BE REPRESENTED IN RCMA LEADERSHIP?

A: Each non-coop member will be assigned to a region. Non-coop producer members in each region will elect a Delegate for each 300 RCMA producer members in the region and one Director from each region. The Delegates will represent the members at meetings of the corporation and the Director will sit on the RCMA Board of Directors. Cooperatives and Capper-Volstead organizations will also have equitable representation in the Delegate body and on the Board.

Q: HOW LONG IS A TERM OF THE MEMBER'S MARKETING AGREEMENT?

A: Essentially it is an annual contract with a January 1st withdrawal date. However, until the first of January following a full year of membership, a member may withdraw with ninety (90) days

Q: ARE THERE ANY OTHER OVER-ORDER PRICING SYSTEMS NOW IN EFFECT?

A: Yes. A recent issue of the USDA Dairy Market News reported over-order prices in 35 areas throughout the United States. Very recently, dairy farmers in the southeastern states formed the Sunbelt Dairy Federation to institute over-order pricing.
