Woodland Tour Set

The Pa. Bureau of Forestry and the Northumberland County Conservation District will sponsor a woodland tour on Tuesday, August 4 at 6:30 PM.

The tour will be held on Paul Kline's property, located about one mile north of Greenbrier in southern Northumberland County. Signs leading to the site will be posted along the Rebuck-Leck Kill road.

Leading the tour will be Mark Deibler, service forester with the Pa. Bureau of Forestry, and William Kreiger, a local consulting forester. Those attending the program will have the opportunity to see timber stand management and harvesting techniques after a gypsy moth kill on Kline's 78 acres of woodlands.

Other topics will include forest regeneration after a harvesting operation, timber values, tree identification, developing a harvesting contract, professional forestry services, and others.
