ACRES CORN-UPDATE: Com futures closed lower today with losses attributed to long liquidation prior to the issuance of the grain stocks report and month-end position evening maneuvers. With resistance above $1.82 in December, traders felt a technical correction was due. The continued lack of hedge pressure in light of scanty farmer selling was supportive to the December option as well higher Gulf basis levels. Yesterday's announcement of the 1988 Feed Grain program held no surprises and offered little direction.

The USDA gram stocks report was termed supportive to futures, with openings tomorrow projected at 1 to 2 cents higher.

ACRES SOYBEAN UPDATE: Soybeans futures settled mixed this after on with nearbys supported by strength in the October soymeal. This session was characterized by choppy with position-squaring in front of the Grain Stocks report. Further support came from a slowdown in farmer selling as well as tomorrow's scheduled 5-1/2 cent increase in the CCC resale price Deferreds were pressured by possible effects of Gramm Rudman on the 1988 loan

The USDA grain stocks report was termed supportive to futures with openings tomorrow projected and 2 to 3 cents higher

ACRES WHEAT UPDATE: Wheat futures closed lower with weakness attributed to long-liquidation in front of the USDA grain stocks report. Prices were pressured early by news that the USDA had rejected export bonus bids for 170 MT of SRW wheat which China had sought in its tender Monday. Strength in the gulf basis level id uncertainty over the conditions in the USSR were supportive. The USDA grain stocks report issued this afternoon was as follows:

Sept. 1 Trade Estimates USDA stocks (bln bu) avg. range 6/1/87 9/1/86 WHEAT 2 958 3.209 3.115-3.258 1.815 3.115.

This report was termed supportive and traders were calling futures 2 to 3 cents & higher on the opening tomorrow
