ACRES CORN UPDATE:

Corn futures closed slightly lower this afternoon, pressured by a late sell-off linked to pre-hedging. Support came from continuing ideas of a large purchase of US corn, however the smaller-thanexpected sale announcement yesterday along with ideas that buying yesterday would have covered the sale, encouraged late selling. Ongoing light country movement, insured by yesterday's CCC's corn differential adjustments supported futures. Generic premiums fell from 1/2 to 1% today with bids at 108-109 and offers at 109 and 110. December com lost one cent, closing $1.83-1/4.

ACRES WHEAT UPDATE: Wheat futures settled sharply higher today fueled by aggressive buying linked to a brighter export picture.

Ongoing speculation about a bonus offer to the USSR and sales to India as part of a food aid agreement generated this buying spree. December closed up 5-1/2 cents at $3.02-1/4 and the March gained 7 cents closing at $3.14-1/4.

ACRES CATTLE UPDATE: Live cattle futures closed mixed this afternoon with December higher and the back months slightly lower in active trading. Prices were sharply higher this morning, with buying fueled by ideas that recent losses were overdone. Ideas that today's market was unable to sustain early gains despite steep advances in the Stock Index
