

Sussex Wells Selected For National Pesticide Study

NEWARK, DE — Water from selected public and private wells in Sussex County will be analyzed possibly as early as this spring as part of a two-year national pesticide survey conducted by the EPA.

According to Mark Graustein, University of Delaware Extension entomologist and pesticide specialist, Sussex County will be among the 90 counties across the U.S. chosen to participate in the survey. Approximately 17 private and 17 community water wells will be sampled in Delaware. About 750 wells will be tested nationwide.

"Most counties were selected because of the large amount of pesticides used and the vulnerability of their groundwater," Graustein says. "Sussex County appears vulnerable because of its loose, sandy soil and high water table."

These factors do not always favor contamination, Graustein added. In a state-wide survey of Florida wells, the pesticide specialist pointed out, an unexpected low amount of pesticides were found in the groundwater despite the permeable soils and high water table.

The well water samples will be tested by five different laboratories, using eight different analytical methods. Most of these methods were developed specifically for the survey.

"Five are new multi-residue tests, capable of detecting 10 or more pesticides," Graustein says.

The water will be checked for about 70 pesticides as well as nitrates. Well owners and operators and county agents will be asked to provide information on land use around the wells.

The purpose of the survey is to determine the degree to which the nation's drinking water is contaminated by pesticides and to better understand the relationship between pesticide use and the vulnerability of groundwater to

Bedford Club Lamb And Pig Sale

BEDFORD — Twenty-five feeder lambs averaged $64, while 22 feeder pigs averaged $56 in the second annual club lamb and pig sale sponsored by the Bedford County Sheep and Wool Producers' Association here Saturday.

Richard Heit of Bedford paid the top price of $150 for a 66-lb. Suffolk wether, and the second highest price of $125, again for a 66-lb. Suffolk wether, both consigned by the Fred Koontz family of Bedford.

Heit, 18, a senior Future Farmer of America student at Bedford Area High School, tied as volume lamb buyer, taking home four head. The Paul Shaffer family of Schellsburg also bought four head.

In the 22-head pig offering, a Duroc-Berkshire cross gilt paced the bids, selling for $115 to Kirk Diehl, 11, of Bedford. Diehl's twin brother, Kayle, offered the second-highest bid for $95 for a Duroc-Hampshire cross gilt. The youths are members of the Bedford County Squealers 4-H Club. Kayle exhibited the grand champion carcass hog at last year's Bedford County Fair.

All of the pigs were consigned by Harry Warcham of Everett RD 1. John William Koontz of Bedford RD 1 purchased the most, nine head.

David Harpster of Boalsburg served as auctioneer while Koontz was sale chairman.
