

Schoen, Colwell Elected To Eastern Milk's Board

SYRACUSE, NY — Edwin Schoen of Phelps, N.Y., and Merle W. Colwell of Windsor, N.Y., have been elected to the board of directors of Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative in special district elections.

Schoen represents about 250 farmers in parts of the Finger Lakes region and Central New York. He succeeds Charles Freligh of Cayuga, N.Y., who died in a farm accident.

A member of Eastern since 1970, Schoen began farming in 1965 after getting an associate's degree from Cornell. In 1982 he became partners with John Stephen, also of Phelps, and since then the farm has grown from 76 to 400 acres. They milk 85 Holsteins.

Schoen and his wife, Jean, have three daughters. They also are active in another business, Schoen-Wyffels Homes Inc., which markets log homes. Prior to his election to the board, Schoen was active in Eastern's Rose City Local, serving as secretary-treasurer for four years and as president for six.

Colwell represents 200 farmers in a district stretching through northeastern Pennsylvania and into New York. Colwell succeeds Earl Forwood of Hop Bottom, Pa., who resigned.

Colwell started farming in 1946 and became a member of Eastern in 1953. He has been active in Eastern's Blue Ridge Local for a number of years, serving terms as president, delegate and secretary-treasurer. Colwell and his wife, Gertrude Jean, have five daughters and a son. They milk 60 cows out of a herd of 104 Holsteins on their 214-acre farm.

Headquartered in Syracuse, N.Y., Eastern Milk Producers is a dairy cooperative with over 3,000 member-owners in nine states.
