the New York Times. Jensen does investigative stories for NBC Nightly News and creates features on the "Today" program. He serves as a panelist on "Meet The Press" and recently did a special broadcast on U.S. Agriculture.

In addition, the program will feature the 1988 Century Farm Families awards as a salute to Lancaster Agriculture. Lancaster County Agent Jay Irwin said this week that Century Farm nominees whose applications have been processed prior to October 1 will be honored at this banquet.

"Applications for Century Farm designation are still being accepted by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture," Irwin said. "To qualify as a Century Farm, the farm must have been owned by the same family for 100 consecutive years or more. A family member must currently live on the farm and the farm must consist of at least 10 acres of the original holding or gross over $1,000 annually from the sale of farm products."

Every is invited to attend the banquet. Individual tickets are $25 each with tables of 10 available at $250. All tickets are sold on a first-come, first-served basis. You may use the order form published with this article. Deadline for registration is Thursday, November 10. If you have questions you may call Ms. Lennon at the Chamber office. Phone: (717) 397-4035.
