

Wayne Residents Meet Legislators

HARRISBURG — Several Wayne County residents, Theodore Kostige, of Lakeville and Robert Muller Sr., of Pleasant Mount, met with representatives in Harrisburg recently as part of the annual Legislative Day activities sponsored by the Pennsylvania Council of Cooperative Extension Associations (PCCEA).

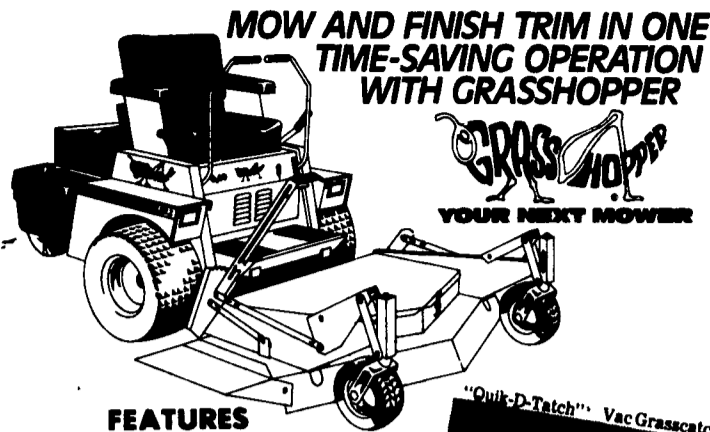

"Legislative Day is a chance for people from throughout the Commonwealth to meet with members of the General Assembly so we can express our support of programs offered by Penn State Cooperative Extension," said Kostige, president of Wayne County Extension Executive Committee, and a delegate from Wayne County.

"This year, we are especially interested in increasing funding for research in seven areas. This research will form the foundation for the extension programs of the future," said Kostige.

More than 225 PCCEA delegates from across Pennsylvania met in Harrisburg for the day-long session. After meeting with representatives and aides at the Capitol, they were joined by approximately 75 members of the General Assembly for dinner.

The seven top priority agricultural research initiatives supported by the PCCEA are: water quality and management, food safety and nutrition, pesticide safety, animal health, forest resources, profitability in Pennsylvania agriculture, and rural economic development.
