Why more people are taking a liking to beef and veal.

Have we got good news for you Your dollar-per-head beef checkoff investment is paying off at the checkout counter Throughout Pennsylvania, and all around the country, real people are coming back to the real value and good nutrition of beef and veal

The number of Americans who believe beef fits into their lifestyles is up 5% in six months. 56% of all Americans believe beef is an important part of a well-balanced diet—that number's grown. And a whopping 88% are aware of the national TV, radio, and print advertising campaign that you've helped fund.

Of course, your checkoff dollars go a lot farther than advertising, a lot farther than you may think. Your dollars are also invested in important research programs on nutrition, diet and health.

and new product marketing. Educational programs for schools, dieticians, and doctors receive your help. Even media education, leading to positive news stories about beef and veal, is made possible by your much needed dollars.

By the way, 50¢ of every one of those dollars is controlled by your state beef council. That means better funding for state and local programs, which hit a lot closer to your home. And with a 5% cap on the costs to run the checkoff program, you know your money is invested wisely.

So, congratulations. Your products once again are earning the respect they deserve. But our work's not done. We urge you to continue your faithfulness to the checkoff program. After all, if you don't give a buck for beef, no one else will.
