

Delaware 4-H'er

Joy Sparks, Biggs' photo was one of three selected at the 1988 Delaware State Fair to represent the First State in the national exhibit. "The judges for the 4-H photography category look for three or four photos that they feel display exceptional quality and that are also a little unusual," Sparks says. "The pose of the striped kitten really reminds you of a tiger on the prowl."

In addition to the photos from 4-H, which is the youth branch of Cooperative Extension, the joint exhibit includes 50 photos chosen by the Soviets from pictures submitted by members of the Pioneers, a national youth organization in the U.S.S.R.

The traveling exhibit was on display in the Soviet Union and at Eastman Kodak headquarters in Rochester, N.Y., in May. It will be exhibited this fall at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md. Portions of the exhibit may be scheduled for national, regional and county events upon request by county or state 4-H offices.

The selection of "A Tiny Tiger" for the exhibit came as a surprise to Biggs, a member of the Viola Fireflies 4-H club since 1979. He became interested in photography about four years ago and has worked on his 4-H photography project for just two years.

He took the winning picture with a 33 mm. camera while lying down in the grass at the kitten's level. "I focused in on the kitten and left the surroundings alone," he says. "I hope people who look at the photo see the sparkle and warmth that I saw before I took the picture."

Biggs enjoys practicing and improving his photography skills and sharing his photos with others. He was proud to know that his picture would be viewed by people in the Soviet Union.

And what message does he hope others will find in "A Tiny Tiger"? Biggs says the photo offers a different perspective on life compared to many photos that emphasize the negative. Even though the kitten looks like a prowling tiger, the picture is not threatening or violent.

"People are tired of seeing bad things happen," Biggs says. "I hope this picture grabs people's attention in a different, more positive way. You can look at it and have a feeling of warmth--there's something friendly about it."

Biggs, a 1989 graduate of Lake

Forest High School, plans to pursue his interest in photography after 4-H. He'll take his camera along this August when he starts a two-year program at Valley Forge Military Academy in Pennsylvania.

Wadel Bull Goes To ABS

DeFOREST, WI. — American Breeders Service has selected a young Holstein bull, Wa-Del Royal Boy-ET to enter their Progeny Testing Program. He was bred by Rick L. Wadel, of Shippensburg, Pennsylvania. He is sired by Leker Valiant Royalty and from Nor-Vi Valor Zada (VG-88). This high testing daughter of Sir C Valor produced over 1200 lbs. of fat as a Sr. three-year-old (365 days, 2x milking) and has a lifetime fat average of 4.5%. In turn, her dam is a VG daughter of Lime-Hollow Elevation Mars with consistent

4% fat test and records of 912 lbs. of fat. Royal Boy combines many popular ABS sires close-up in his pedigree. He has two crosses to Valiant, one to Mars and one to Mowry Imperial Knight, the maternal grandsire of Royalty.

Wa-Del Royal Boy-ET joins over 200 other young Holstein bulls being tested this year through the ABS testing program. After a four-year wait, his progeny will be evaluated and a decision made as to whether or not he qualifies to join the elite line-up of ABS proven sires.
