SHIPPENSBURG (Cumberland Co.) — Michael Smith and his nine-year-old 92 2E cow took home their 12th grand champion rosette August 4 after the Southcentral FFA Dairy Show. Smith-Dale Rosemary Marvex, a Marvex daughter, had won the Southcentral FFA Dairy Show once before and the Shippensburg FFA Show and Carlisle FFA Show five times each. She has made over 100,000 pounds of milk lifetime production.

Smith, 20, the son of Galen and Linda Smith of Shippensburg, is a member of the Shippensburg FFA chapter.

junior two-year old owned by Paul Luther Rauhauser of Dover, York County, was named senior and grand champion. Irene's daughter, a junior calf named Lilac-Springs Beau Iggy, took home reserve junior champion honors. Paul belongs to the Dover FFA chapter.

The Guernsey junior and grand champion, Rockmoore Kernals Ginger, was exhibited by Chambersburg FFA member John Burns. Paul Luther Rauhauser showed the reserve junior and reserve grand champion.

Christine Young of Newville, a member of the Big Spring FFA Chapter, led her senior calf to junior and grand champion placings in the Milking Shorthorn division. Mark O. Brantner of the Chambersburg FFA chapter received reserve junior and reserve grand champion honors for his junior yearling.

Franklin County's Dairy Princess, Jennifer Gloss, showed the senior and grand champion of the Brown Swiss show, Twin Lane Claudia Marie. Jennifer's sister Patty showed the reserve grand champion, Twin Lane Improver Millie Lily. Both girls are members of the Chambersburg FFA chapter.

Timothy Smith of the Shippensburg FFA chapter was named Master Showperson, while Brian Reichard received Master Fitter honors.

Type judge for the show was Jed Beshore of Beshore Farms; New Cumberland. A Delaware Valley College graduate with a major in dairy science, Beshore milks 50 Holsteins who maintain a RHA of over 20,000 pounds of milk and 775 pounds of fat.

Jeff Reasner of Shippensburg served as showing and fitting judge. Reasner complimented the exhibitors on their fine clipping jobs, noting how difficult it is not to leave clipper marks on the colored breeds. "These kids have come a long way," Reasner said. "They're as good as the 4-H."

Reasner milks 120 Holsteins in partnership with his father-in-law at Dyar-Acres farm.

A dam and daughter pair owned by Paul Rauhauser of Dover were named senior and grand champion, and reserve junior champion of the Jersey show.

Chris Reichard of Chambersburg, rear, showed the reserve senior and reserve grand champion Jersey while his brother Brian had the junior champion Jersey. Brian also received the Master Fitter award.

Timothy Smith, Shippensburg, was named Master Showperson of the FFA show. Presenting his award is Arthur Staver for Pioneer Seeds, who sponsored the award.
