ACRES CORN UPDATE: Corn futures prices closed from 1/4 cent lower on the September option to 1/2 cent higher on the March. September again was subjected to long liquidation in advance of first notice day with losses held in check by ideas deliveries would be light. Further support was provided by a late rally in wheat along with ideas that East Germany was in the market for U.S. corn. The latest 30 day weather forecast called for normal temperatures and served to erase early frost fears. Today's session was quiet with prices confined to narrow ranges throughout the day. December settled unchanged at $2.33-3/4 after trading in a range from $2.33 to $2.35.

ACRES SOYBEAN UPDATE: Soybean futures closed mostly lower with the front six options from 1 to 3 cents lower. Prices were confined to narrow ranges today with support provided by cash market firmness after the latest 30 day weather forecast eliminated early frost fears. A brighter export outlook provided underlying support with news of a tender by Taiwan tonight. November settled 1-3/4 cents lower today at $5.77-3/4 after trading in a range from $5.76-1/2 to $5.81-1/2. September dropped 2 cents on first notice day jitters.

ACRES WHEAT UPDATE: Wheat futures closed mixed today with the September gaining 1-1/4 (Turn to Page A7)
