Acres Corn Update: Corn futures were almost a non-event today, ending the session from 1/4 cent higher to 1 cent lower. Session long pressure was exerted by reports of weaker interior cash basis levels, and forecasts for good harvest weather. Spillover from lower beans also had a negative impact on corn prices with offsetting support attributed to an increased export pace. Prices were confined to narrow range trading with December closing out for the day 3/4 cent lower at $2.29-3/4 after trading from $2.29-1/2 to $2.31-1/4.

Acres Soybean Update: Soybean futures prices dropped from 1 to 6-1/4 cents today on selling tied to seasonal harvest pressure and forecasts for continued good weather for the next 6 to 10 days. Further pressure came from a weak news that Morocco had purchased 210,000 metric tonnes kept the market alive. Light inspections on yesterday's weekly report. profit taking was featured but on the Soybean and oil were lower on heavy professional selling mirroring activity in the bean pit. Talk of Soviet interest in Malaysian palm oil and a sale of U.S. soybean beans closed 6-1/4 cents lower today at $5.66-1/4 after trading in a range from $5.66 to $5.76.

Acres Wheat Update: As predicted yesterday, wheat prices closed from 2-3/4 to 4-1/4 cents higher today on buying proposed by widespread export rumors and yesterday's late news that China had bought 300,000 metric tonnes. Talk that Egypt would tender this weekend for 500,000 metric tonnes combined with

Acres Cattle Update: Live and feeder cattle futures settled higher again today with the fats gaining from 27 to 100 points on the October option while spillover fueled gains in the feeders from 15 to 72 points. Buying today was in response to reports of active fed cattle sales at higher prices with top prices on steers and heifers reported at $70.00/cwt in the Texas Panhandle. Expected pre-first notice day long liquidation was absent today as the board
