Hanover, nailed down another supreme champion sow banner with their homebred Duroc gilt. The red hogs' winning ways continued through the supreme boar runoffs, with the supreme title clinched by the James Parlett family, Airville.

A Hampshire exhibited by the John Strawbridge family, Stewartstown, broke the Duroc domination when breed champions took to the arena for the supreme parade before judge Keith Bard, Cambria County.

The Russell Combower family of New Freedom swept the Berkshire breeding classes, taking champion and reserve barrow, sow and boar rosettes.

Judging of Chester Whites ended in a similar shutout of the competition by Jim and Gus Parlett, Airville, taking all six barrow, sow, and boar rosettes.

Duroc awards were divided up among a trio of exhibitors. The Parlett string took both champion and reserve boar honors, as well as reserve champion sow and reserve barrow. Rogert Bankert got the nod for champion sow. Dave Holloway, whose show string consisted of one homebred, took the Duroc barrow champion title, as well as reserve supreme.

Both the Hampshire and Yorkshire breed shows were completely dominated by John Strawbridge's winning showstring of homebreds.

Matt Trostle, 4-H member from Red Lion, topped the sow classes for champion in the Spotted Hogs division. All other Spotted champion and reserve placings went to Jim and Gus Parlett.

Dave Holloway's Duroc topped the breed for the barrow title, then took the reserve supreme barrow placing.

Named York Fair supreme boar was the champion Duroc exhibited by Gus Parlett.

Rogert Bankert's champion Duroc gilt won her breed classes, then earned the judge's nod for the York Fair's supreme sow title.

Larry Robinson bested the competition to capture the champion Landrace barrow rosette.

Exhibitor of the champion Hampshire boar was John Strawbridge.

Champion Yorkshire boar ribbons at the York Fair went to John Strawbridge.

John Strawbridge's champion Hampshire entry took the York Fair supreme barrow award.

Holstein Directory

HUGHSON, Calif. — The 1990-91 Holstein Sire Directory has been made available, according to a statement from Landmark Genetics.

The breeder's reference book has some changes, however, according to the company's news release.

"The 1990-91 Holstein Sire Directory is an easy to use, easy to understand reference book containing the latest USDA production, HFA type summaries and useful breeding notes on our complete A.I. proven sire line-up.

"With alphabetical listings by sire name or code number, you can easily locate the bulls to see daughter photos, calving ease, linear, and pedigrees. Special pages include recommendation to help you use Landmark Sires to their best advantage, aAa, DMS and calving ease listings, the linear trait leaders, and the proofs at a glance," the company claims.

The directories are available through district sales managers or distributors.
