Report Shows Maryland Ag Remains Strong

ANNAPOLIS, Md.— Farm income in Maryland for 1989 amounted to $402.6 million after expenses. Income from broilers set a record at $448.90 million, up 13 percent from the previous year. This is according to the just released "Maryland Agricultural Statistics" annual report for 1989. The report is published cooperatively by the Maryland Department of Agriculture and the National Agricultural Statistics Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In issuing the report, Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley, Jr. praised Maryland farmers for their contributions to the economy of Maryland.

"These statistics chronicle in factual terms the current state of all facets of Maryland's agricultural industry," Cawley said.

The report includes data on crop production, livestock and poultry members, production, prices, and income of the agriculture industry. Included for the first time are statistics on Maryland's aquaculture business.

According to the report, timely rains helped the 1989 corn crop bounce back after three bad years.

At the same time soybean production set a record at 16.50 million bushels. In contrast, tobacco production for the 1989 crop totaled 8,103,000 pounds, the smallest crop on record since statistics were gathered in 1866.
