

Bad Weather, Good Turnout For Lebanon Winter Roundup

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff
NORTH CORNWALL (Lebanon Co.) — Cold, inhospitable weather seems to be becoming part of a tradition for the annual Lebanon

County 4-H Livestock Club's Winter Roundup, held Dec. 27 at the Lebanon Area Fairgrounds. For at least the second year in a row, freezing temperatures set the stage for the event. This year about 2 inches of snow covered the ground by the time the sale of market animals was finished. The weather has yet to detract from the event, which is the end-of-the year sale and show for the club. In fact this year's sale netted about $2,000 more for the county youth.

A total of 13 sheep, three beef animals and 117 market hogs were shown during the roundup.

The sale netted a total of $28,027.61. Last year's sale brought in a little more than $26,000.

The market hogs brought the most for the club, with an average sale price of 86 cents per pound, for a total of $22,459.11.

Of the market lambs, the average was $1.24 per pound, for a total of $1,638.45.

The beef animals sold for an average of $1.07 per pound for a total of $3,930.05.

There were 41 buyers present.

The grand champion market lamb, shown by Benjamin Bow Jr., weighed 120 pounds and was bought by Dennis Grumbine, of Everygreen Tractor Co., for $2.60 per pound.

Daryl Grumbine holds his reserve grand champion market lamb while buyer Michael Firestine holds a plaque he received for buying the animal.

others to support the 1991 Junior Livestock Show and Sale. Plan to attend and express your support for this worthwhile and exciting event.

MILKING PARLOR - Over 200 dairy cows are milked twice daily in a modern milking parlor in the North Building. The facility is a miniature version of the milking barn and milk houses found on commercial dairy farms. Our accommodations are unique among dairy shows because the facilities are approved by State Milk Sanitarians for the production and sale of fluid milk. Farm Show visitors have an opportunity to observe these activities, basic to every dairy farm enterprise.

OFFICIAL PROGRAM SOUVENIR BOOK - The Official Program Souvenir Book can be purchased at any of the main entrances to the Farm Show Complex. This annual publication highlights past and present Farm Shows, and includes valuable information on Pennsylvania agriculture and the vital associations that make it our number one industry.

OLDER PENNSYLVANIANS DAY - A reception center will be open Monday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.
