

N.E. Chicken Parts

March 13, 1991

Trucklot buying interest was mixed and selective and generally unaggressive. Supplies of boneless breasts tightened at several points as some processors curtailed schedules; some dealers continued to note fully adequate supplies at unchanged prices while others noted supplies as tight and firmly held. Whole breasts were in fairly good balance. Leg items were at least adequate and wings were fully adequate to ample.

N.Y. & Phila. Frozen Eggs

March 12, 1991

The market tone was unsettled. Trading was limited as both buyers and sellers were cautious and generally adopted a wait and see position. Raw materials were fully adequate for the light interest. Breaking schedules were often adjusted to avert building unwanted inventories. Current floor stocks were sufficient to handle present needs.

National Egg Market

March 13, 1991

Prices were unchanged. The market tone was steady. Demand in all channels  was mixed across the full range, mostly moderate. With the exception of white egg shortages in New England, supplies in all areas were balanced. Additional holdings were expected to be sufficient for the upcoming holidays, and were maintained with confidence. Breakers had adequate shell eggs, and generally provided a light demand for additional eggs.
