Here's all the support you need to make header handling easy. Both upper and lower bars are adjustable for maximum clearance. With an Unverferth header transport carrying your combine head or grain platform, moving and storing hassles disappear. Unverferth header transports are specially engineered running gears constructed of exceptionally strong 3 1/2" steel tubing. Adjustable upper and lower support bars provide necessary clearance and allow the Unverferth header transport to custom fit your header. Find out what a difference a little support can make.
