Variable chamber round baler

Depending on the type of baling you do, a variable chamber round baler may be your best buy. Features include Gehl "air-draulics," a system that gives you total density control (TDC). It allows you to control the size of the bale core and the density of the outer wrap to build a bale that's just right for your crop. You get high quality bales that look good and store well. And you can operate your baler with lower horsepower tractors. Two models makes bales up to 5 ft or 6 ft in diameter. Gehl's optional dual twine Auto-Electric Wrap System ensures a uniform twine wrap automatically, bale after bale.

1060/1260 forage harvester

Gehl's revolutionary Auto-Max™ system is standard on the 1260, optional on the 1060. It lets you operate your harvester at top capacity, without fear of downtime due to overloading, so you get more harvesting done in less time. With both the 1060 and 1260, you save more time with features like the exclusive, patented one-side cutterbar adjustment and in-head hydraulic knife sharpener. Both machines feature a unique spinner delivery system instead of cross augers. Options include Gehl's Metal-Stop metal detector and haylage water tank. Designed for big tractors up to 300 hp, the 1260 is the highest capacity pull-type forage harvester available today. The 1060 is designed for tractors up to 200 hp.
