

Jr. Dairymen Contest In Fifth Year At All-American

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.)— The knowledge of youth participants will once again be tested at the All-American Dairy Show Junior Dairyman Contest. The contest is sponsored by Arm & Hammer Ag Products, a division of Church & Dwight Co. of Princeton, New Jersey, and Pfizer, Inc., through its Animal Health Division of New York, New York. The contest is open to 4-H members, FFA members, and agricultural high school students in the United States and Canada. It uses ten different classes to test participants in Agribusiness knowledge and decision making. Classes include current dairy issues, farm business management, sire selection, descriptive evaluation, and identification of dairy, feed and meat products. Walter Wurster, an extension agent from Chester County serves as superintendent of the contest, and Carl Brown of F.M. Brown's Sons, Inc. of Birdsboro serves as Advisory Committee Chairman. Dr. Brown feels this is one of the most practical of all agricultural contests open to high school age students. "It will point out the vast amount of knowledge a farmer or other Agribusiness person must have today, by testing the youth in ten categories."

Premiums will be awarded to the top ten teams in each division and to the top ten individuals overall. The first place individual will receive a $500 scholarship to be used to further his or her education.

The 1991 contest will be held Tuesday, September 24th. entries must be postmarked by September 14th and are available from : Charles A. Itle, Manager, All-American Dairy Show, Farm Show Complex, 2301 N. Cameron Street, Harrisburg, PA 17110-9408.
