N.E. Chicken Parts

Jan. 22, 1992

Trucklot buying interest was light and selective. Breast items were adequate and in fairly good balance with buyers noting less available offerings of whole breasts and little indication of discounted product, particularly on yellow. Boneless skinless breasts were adequate for an irregular demand. Leg items were generally noted as adequate; however, additional supplies of leg quarters were held with increased confidence. Wings were in heavy supply and prices continued to develop at lower levels.

National Egg Market

Jan. 22, 1992

Prices were unchanged to higher in the Midwest and New England, unchanged elsewhere. The market tone was steady to firm. Retail specials continued to provide the best demand, and overall movement was fair to good. Supplies were closely balanced to adequate. Offerings were light, and asking prices were at steady to occasionally premium prices. Breakers generally received adequate shell eggs from regular sources. Extra offerings were limited. Live hen markets were about steady, and offerings were at least sufficient for the extremely light to moderate demand.
