on all items. Supplies of boneless skinless breasts were at least adequate for current needs but most buyers were very cautious and selective. Line run breasts were fully adequate to ample and offered out for buyer bids. However, most buyers were sitting on full coolers and were not interested in adding to their floor stocks. Leg quarters were fully adequate and pushed to clear at lower trending prices. Wings were available and buyers were selective. Prices trended lower on light and scattered trading and the undertone was unsettled.
