

For me, the test of any alfalfa is how many pounds of nutrients per acre it produces.

I'm as interested as the next guy in what researchers are doing to improve the alfalfa varieties on the market today. But sometimes, I think seed companies forget that more leaves or better disease resistance by themselves don't produce more milk. The bottom line is pounds of nutrients per acre.

That's why I plant Multi-plier alfalfa from Jacques. Sure it's a multileaf and has good winter-hardiness and terrific disease resistance. But all that says to me is that Multi-plier has the potential to produce more pounds of nutrients per acre on my farm.

I look at my corn silage hybrids the same way. So I also plant a lot of 7970 from Jacques. Yes, it's big and leafy and yes, it makes a lot of grain and fits my operation. But my analysis only measures total digestible nutrients and that's what I'm looking for.

I'm open to new alfalfa varieties and silage corn hybrids, but only if they'll deliver more pounds of nutrients per acre than my Jacques' Multi-plier and 7970.

Keystone Cornucopia Changes Date

The Pennsylvania State Council of Farm Organizations has changed the date of the Annual Keystone Cornucopia reception to February 8, 1993, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Harrisburg Hilton. The cost of the reception is $25.00.

We feel that it is vital to the Cornucopia to have the reception during the time the legislators are in session. The purpose of the Cornucopia is for everyone to be able to meet and talk with their legislators about concerns in the agricultural community.

President Ernie Miller said, "to have the Cornucopia at a time other than when legislators are in session would defeat the purpose of the Cornucopia".

Pennsylvania State Council of Farm Organizations promotes the welfare of agriculture in Pennsylvania by bringing together in the Council farm organizations of state-wide activity or influence for the study, discussion and solution of mutual problems and to sponsor and support constructive legislation which will be valuable and helpful to Pennsylvania agriculture and to farmers' agencies which are working for a better agriculture.
