

ASCS Issues Farm Program Report

LEESPORT (Berks Co.) — Berks County producers reported 43 percent of the 1992 base acreage for wheat and feed grains, according to Richard Troutman, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

"Their reports mean that these producers complied with the 1992 farm program provisions and qualified for program benefits," Troutman said.

According to the final compliance report, the 1992 base acreage of county crops included 4,882 wheat acres, 21,095 corn acres, 3136 barley and oats acres, and 6,073 soybean acres.

Troutman said the 1992 farm program participants planted a total of 17,987 acres of program crops and removed 1,571 cropland acres from production to conserving uses. The idled acreage includes 856 acres designated as acreage conservation reserve and 715 acres under the 0/92 and 50/92 provisions.

Producers complying with the 1992 acreage reduction program requirements reduced their plantings by five percent for wheat, corn, grain sorghum, and barley.

Nationally, the 1992 farm programs removed a total of 19.5 million acres from production to conserving uses.
