Trucklot buying interest was slow and disappointing. Supplies of boneless skinless breasts for retail needs ranged adequate to fully adequate, portion controlled product was at least adequate. Buyers were selective and limited purchases to immediate needs. Line run breasts were irregularly distributed but were in close balance at most locations. Leg quarters and thighs were fully adequate and trading was reported at lower prices. The undertone was soft. Wings were also fully adequate for a sluggish demand but most trading was reported at fairly steady prices.
