Each school starts at noon and will run till 12:30 p.m. the following day.

Each school will feature at least 11 classes to judge, each person will have an opportunity to work one on one with an experienced judge on giving reasons. There will be ample opportunity to discuss classes and learn many of the basics of cattle judging.

There will also be time to visit, enjoy volleyball, softball and swimming and meet with other dairy enthusiasts from around the state.

The cost is $25 for those staying overnight, this includes school costs, hotel room and evening meal. For those that commute the cost is $15 which covers school costs and the evening meal. A second member from the same family who attends can take $5 off their registration fee.

the war. When the Confederate troops marched through on the railroad tracks adjoining the farm on their way to burn Chambersburg, they stopped at this house for coffee.

After the war, one of the soldiers returned and married one of the daughters. They lived in the stone house, then built the brick addition in 1896.

Family Activities

Mark's father, H. Norman Meyers, 81, lives in Greencastle and calls weekly for updates on the farm work. He comes out to watch whenever the classifier comes. "He says he doesn't understand the ET work, but he's interested in how things are going," Mark said.

Alan is on the county Holstein board and on the heifer sale committee at Shalom Christian Academy, where Ashley is a first-grader. He enjoys hunting and church activities, but "all have suffered due to lack of time because of the ET work," he said.

Kendra sews, is chairman of the mission committee at Antrim Brethren in Christ Church, and teaches Sunday School.

The Meyers family is to serve as host for the Franklin County Holstein Field Day set for August 3. The ultrasound technique will be demonstrated then, as will flushing. The speaker is to be Ron Buffington, of Ohio, who will talk on merchandising.

FEEDING SCHEDULE?

BIG DUTCHMAN
CHAIN FEEDER
FEEDING SCHEDULE!

How often do your feeders run in a day? It is generally necessary to operate drag auger feeders as many as eight or more times per day because of limited feeding space and the small quantity of feed presented at one time. That creates tremendous competition for the little feed available. The result of this competition is damaged eggs... from feet, toes and collisions. Big Dutchman chain feeders can feed your flock by running as few as three or four times a day, with little competition for feed, a calmer flock and fewer cracks and checks.

IF YOU ARE... FORCED TO FEED

more than four times a day or during peak laying periods, call 911 for your egg casualties or... call (717) 393-5807 for information on how our chain feeder pampers your product... from cage to carton.
