Ephrata Young Farmers Welcome New Adviser

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Michael Brubaker, who is the president of Brubaker Agronomic Consulting Service, Inc., (BACS), has been selected by the Ephrata Area Young Farmers Association to serve as the advisor for the coming year.

Brubaker started BACS in 1978 in order to help farmers make sound economic and environmental decisions that would improve yields and promote environmental stewardship. He is a certified agronomist, custom applicator, and soil scientist. Brubaker uses his expertise as an agronomist to benefit the various committees and boards he has been invited to join — most recently, the Advisory Committee of the College of Agriculture of the Pennsylvania State University. He is a strong advocate, both on a local and state level, of agriculture and the vital role it plays in our nation.

Brubaker has been honored by several organizations in the past. He has been nominated as the Small Business Person of the Year, received recognition as Communicator of the Year, and was recognized as an Outstanding Young Community Leader.

Brubaker Agronomic Consulting Service, Inc. is the sixth largest agricultural/environmental consulting firm in the United States. Their staff of agronomists are employed throughout the Mid-Atlantic region. BACS staff, collectively, has many decades of field experience.

BACS employs 12 full-time employees.
