New York & Philadelphia Frozen Eggs

Tuesday, July 13, 1993

Prices were generally trending lower under very limited interest. Buyers were unaggressive and for the most part adopted a wait and see position. Raw materials were usually sufficient for current processing schedules. Finished product was in good balance for current trade interest.

Northeast Broiler/Fryer Parts

Wednesday, July 14, 1993

Trucklot buying interest was fairly light and generally slower than expected. Supplies of boneless skinless breasts with tenders were in good balance and traded at unchanged prices; product without tenders were fully adequate; offered at competitive prices; and slow to clear. The undertone was steady at best. Line run breasts were in close balance with current needs. Regular deliveries were rescheduled to later in the week or trucks were arriving later than planned. Product was also lighter than desired. Prices were unchanged; however, the sentiment was fully steady. Leg quarters and wings were slow to clear.

National Egg Market

Wednesday, July 14, 1993

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE: Prices were unchanged. The trade sentiment was generally steady. Movement of cartoned eggs into retail channels ranged fairly light to fairly good and showed some improvement. Supplies of jumbo and extra large were short of trade needs and some buying interest was not covered; large were adequate; and, mediums were adequate to fully adequate. Breaking stock prices in the Central States were unchanged. Offerings were adequate for a fair demand. Some lighter weight product was available and booked. The undertone was steady. In the Southeast, sales of live hens were too light and scattered to report prices. Offerings were at least adequate for next week's operating schedules while demand was no better than fair overall. The undertone was generally steady.
