4-H'ers Named To Honors Group At Fashion Revue

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Honors went to 10 contestants at the annual State 4-H Fashion Revue, held July 28 in Eisenhower Auditorium on Penn State's University Park Campus.

Sixty regional finalists modeled outfits designed as part of their 4-H projects. Judges selected honors recipients on construction skill, garment fit, appropriateness and modeling poise.

Judith Mains (not show in photo), daughter of Donald and Miriam Mains of Duncannon, was selected to represent Pennsylvania in the National 4-H Fashion Revue, to be held at the National 4-H Club Congress in December in Chicago. She modeled a double-breasted jacket and skirt ensemble that she will wear at the 1993 Environmental Summit.

Melinda Kovac, daughter of Michael and Linda Kovac of Trafford, modeled a formal gown of green and fuschia dupioni silk.

Trisha Gallagher, daughter of William and Janet Gallagher of Uniontown, modeled a sporty jogging suit of tangerine, purple and teal rip-stop nylon.

Tracey Ross, daughter of Maurice and Cindy Ross, Jr., of Latrobe, modeled a three-piece ensemble of corduroy print in navy and cream.

Leah Algier, daughter of Jay and Michele Algier of Honey Brook, modeled a loose-fitting western style blouse fashioned from four different cotton fabrics, black slacks, and handmade necklace and earrings.

LANDCOMMANDER

Controls compaction, rough fields, soil erosion & residue management problems.

Adjustable front disc gangs cut the residue. Auto-reset shanks penetrate the soil 8 to 20" to break up compaction. The rear discs break clods, incorporate residue and level fields. To leave more surface residue and control erosion, raise the gang. Easy manual or hydraulic adjustments change disc cutting depth.

Now there's one way to manage surface residue and compaction problems... stop in and we'll talk.
