

Sellers Brothers Share

Buyer of the winning pair was Bankert's Durocs and Chester Whites, the Hanover breeder of the two pigs. Roger Bankert purchased both with a 75-cent per pound bid.

Jason is the son of Bill and Lois Rankin and exhibiting in his last year as a 4-H member. He plans to attend college, with the goal of a career in agriculture.

Reserve champion pair was exhibited by rookie 4-H'er Kathleen Jenkins. The nine-year-old Fawn Grove member took the reserve honors with her Spotted and Hampshire crossed entries. Her purchased project pigs got a regular workout when Kathleen took them for a daily run around the Jenkins farm.

Hatfield Packing Company was the winning bidder on the reserve pair, at 55-cents per pound for the 245 and 250-pound entries.

Champion lightweight was the 220-pound entry of Matt Sellers, selling for a 75-cent bid to The Carfixers body shop at Thomasville.

Reserve champion heavy-weight, at 250 pounds, was exhibited by Adam Sellers. Buyer, on a 77-cent bid, was Pro Genetics and White Oak Mills.

Jodi Dutrey of Dallastown exhibited the reserve champion medium weight. James T. Parlett and Son, Airville, was the winning bidder at 70-cents per pound.

David Myers, Wellsville, took reserve champion lightweight honors with a 220-pound pig. It sold for 85 cents per pound to Kesslers.

Average price on the 84 pigs sold, with the champion, was 81 cents. Without the champion, the average of the roundup sale was 78-cents per pound.

Jason Rankin's well-matched Durocs earned him champion pair title at the York roundup. Michelle Bankert Menges and her son Chad represented the buyer and breeder of the winners, Roger Bankert's Durocs, with a final bid of 75-cents per pound on the pair.

York 4-H market hog champion was exhibited by Adam Sellers. Ezra Good purchased the 230-pounder for Hatfield Packing Company, with a bid of $2.60 per pound.

York County - HOG ROUNDOUP

Reserve champion honors at the York roundup went to Matt Sellers. Hatfield Packing Company buyer Ezra Good was the final bidder on the 245-pound pig with a $1.40 per pound bid.

Rookie pig exhibitor Kathleen Jenkins snagged the reserve spot with her pairs entry, purchased by Ezra Good for Hatfield Packing Company on a 55-cent per pound bid.
