World Famous Racing Pigs Featured

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — One of "America's top novelty attractions", Bob Hale's Racing Pigs will be performing 6 shows daily at the Keystone International Livestock Exhibition September 30 through October 4. These world famous athletes are drawing record crowds from coast to coast. Training starts at four weeks and the pigs practice on a permanent track where they're taught to race for a vanilla wafer. The trainer reports that it takes food, repetition, and patience to train the pigs to race.

Contrary to what most might think, the pigs aren't kept hungry so they race faster or so they'll even race at all. They race for the vanilla wafer placed on the platform at the finish line. Pigs, who just naturally want to eat, sometimes come out of the starting gate and just stop, trot around, spin around, play or buck; it just depends on training and their mood.

Bob Hale's Racing Pigs travel the country as privileged characters. They travel in air-conditioned comfort and have performed in such places as Walt Disney World, Opryland, and the World Pork Expo. While betting is not allowed in Pennsylvania, cheerleaders are picked from the crowd and whoever cheers on the winning pigs takes home a poster.

Each 15 minute show features 4 heats. The average time for a trained racing pig to run around the 150 foot track is 7 seconds. Pigs are usually used on the show circuit until they weigh 180 pounds or are about 16 weeks old, and then they are returned to the ranch back in Missouri.

The Racing Pigs are being sponsored by Hatfield Quality Meats of Hatfield, Pennsylvania. Hatfield quality products are available in most areas throughout the state.

The Keystone International Livestock Exposition is sponsored by the PA Livestock Association in cooperation with the PA Department of Agriculture and the PA Farm Products Show Commission.
