

Overall Champion Sheep At Manheim

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, October 9, 1988-A46

recalled they needed to load it in a wagon when it refused to walk the first time. After that, Brandon trained the sheep to walk by pulling, pushing, and tugging. By show time, the no name sheep was cooperative and well muscled from its twice daily walks and the ramps they ran up and down.

This was the second year that Brandon entered the competition. He said that he didn't do so well last year. His brother Corby in his first year of showing this year did quite well. His sale lamb placed first in his class and was named the lightweight champion.

Corby even took a second-place win in junior showmanship. Brandon was third to Ryan Donough who placed first in that division. Ryan, 9, also the champion lightweight market lamb, the reserve heavyweight, which was named reserved market lamb, reserve champion pair, and the reserve lightweight sale lamb. His brother Travis showed a heavyweight sale lamb that took second place to Brandon's lamb in the class but went on to be named reserve heavyweight and reserve sale champion. The Donoughs are from Manheim.

In intermediate showmanship, (Turn to Page A47)

In the last county fair of the season, showmanship champions, from left, are Ryan Donough, junior division; Keith Bollinger, intermediate division; and Wendell Landis, senior division.

Undeclared in market lamb competition, Lisa Reiff holds the seventh trophy she collected at county fairs this season. Ryan Donough holds the reserve champion market lamb.
