Joey Abrams

Joey Abrams has decided to either become a registered nurse or own a restaurant. Joey, four-year Bellwood Antis FFA member, has served on the community service, public relations, and alumni relations committees with the Bellwood Antis FFA. Parents are Joseph and Cindy Abrams, Tyrone, Blair County. Joey has also served the chapter on the recreation committee, and received several awards, including a salesman award in 1990-1991 and 1992-1993, and a silver in project book in 1992-1993.

Stephen Alfree

With a plan to study agriculture in college, Stephen Alfree has served the Conewago FFA in New Oxford for four years. He has experience in a wide array of FFA activities, including Food for America, Penn State Activities Week, Made for Excellence, Adopt-A-Highway, and public speaking contests. He has also served in dairy and livestock judging at the All American and Penn State, in addition to leadership conferences. The son of Roy and Joyce Alfree, New Oxford, Adams County, Stephen has served the FFA as chaplain, treasurer, vice president, and has garnered several awards, including Star Greenhand, Chapter Agribusiness, Beef Proficiency, and Public Speaking.

David Anthony

Future plans for David Anthony, Marion Center FFA'er, include four years of college. The son of Gary and Kristy Anthony, Rochester Mills, Indiana County has served on various committees and as officer, including president of chapter. He has served on the swine enterprise, beef enterprise, Food for America, banquet, and sweet corn enterprise committees. David was awarded the Greenhand, Chapter Farmer, Star Greenhand, and Star Chapter Farmer awards.

Marilee Appel

The daughter of Roy and Mary Jane Appel, Somerset, Somerset County, Marilee Appel has served with the Somerset FFA for four years. Future plans include college. Marilee has served as chapter secretary, vice president, president, and as county FFA president. Projects include finishing lambs, farm home improvement, small fruit sale, parliamentary procedure team, and the flower bulbs and BOAC projects. She has received the Chapter Degree and various awards, including scholarship, public speaking, and others, and attended the county leadership, fall leadership, and summer conferences.

Daniel J. Atkins

Daniel J. Atkins said he would like to own his own diversified livestock farm after attending college at Penn State with a major in animal and dairy science. Son of Bill and Judy Atkins, Lebanon, Lebanon County, Daniel has served four years at Cedar Crest FFA as chapter treasurer and vice president, and as county treasurer. Daniel has chaired several committees, including earnings and savings and supervised farming. He has also served on the area leadership training, BOAC, alumni relations, safety, and local, state, and national committees. FFA activities include swine production, work experience as a farm hand, and Penn State Leadership Conference. Daniel has received the Greenhand, Chapter, County, and Star Greenhand degrees, and was honored with several awards, including first place in the state parliamentary procedure contest, first place in gold project book, and first in livestock judging and swine proficiency.

Brock Baker

"In the future, I plan to work in and then eventually own and operate my own greenhouses, where I would raise all sorts of plants," said Brock Baker, Bermudian FFA. Brock, son of Keith and Susan Baker, East Berlin, Adams County, serves as the chapter FFA reporter. Brock has also served on various committees, including ag olympics, shop cleanup and maintenance, and window exhibit. Supervised ag experience projects include the production of a garden and the raising of a steer. During the years, the four-year Bermudian FFA'er has earned the Greenhand, Chapter, and County degrees.

Marcie Baker

Marcie Baker indicated she intends to become a veterinary technician after attending Harcum Junior College. Marcie, 18, daughter of Dan and Beth Baker, Birdsboro, Berks County, is in her fourth year at Twin Valley FFA. Marcie has served on various committees, including Food for America, citrus sale, and has participated in various judging contests, including the Penn State Leadership Conference, All American, and county FFA leadership training. Dairy contests that Marcie has participated in include the Kutztown Fair, Allentown Fair, and other events. She received a bronze in the state FFA record book contest. Marcie received a second place in the county swine record book contest and also received the Agricultural Processing Proficiency and Dairy Proficiency awards.

Jason M. Baughman

Dairy science studies occupy the future plans of Jason Baughman, son of Melvin and Bonnie Baughman, Glencoe, Somerset County. The four-year Brothersvalley FFA member has served as chapter vice president and president. Also, Jason has served on various committees, including banquet, public speaking, one-acre corn contest, and summer meetings. Ag experience projects include dairy cow, calf, and heifer projects, in addition to field corn and small grains. Jason has received the Star Greenhand and Star Chapter Farmer degrees, and was awarded first place in the state extemporaneous speaking contest and first in the county dairy judging contest.

Shelly Bedillion

Shelly Bedillion, 19, four-year member of McGuffey FFA, intends to be an electrician. Shelly's parents are Lee and Barb Bedillion, Claysville, Washington County. Shelly has participated on various committees, including fruit sale, fruit award, and chapter banquet. FFA projects include market hog, market lamb, breeding sheep; and breeding pigs. Shelly has received the Greenhand, Chapter, and County degrees, and has served as chapter secretary.
